

Antes de resolver o conflito:

The screenshot shows a GitHub pull request interface. At the top, it says "diegoalvarengar... wants to merge 1 commit into master from feature/team-name-b". Below this, there are tabs for "Conversation" (0), "Commits" (1), "Checks" (0), and "Files changed" (1). The conversation section shows three comments: 1. A comment from diegoalvarengarodrigues 2 minutes ago with the text "No description provided." 2. A comment from joaof-marques 1 minute ago with the text "O arquivo team.txt está dando conflito. Temos que decidir como o conteúdo dele deve ficar. Podemos deixar um nome na primeira linha e outro nome na segunda, o que acha?" 3. A comment from diegoalvarengarodrigues now with the text "Ops. Não percebi. Vamos corrigir como você sugeriu." Below the comments, there is a section titled "Add more commits by pushing to the feature/team-name-b branch on joaof-marques/ex-0512-alpha". At the bottom, there is a warning box that says "This branch has conflicts that must be resolved" and "Conflicting files team.txt". A button labeled "Resolve conflicts" is visible.

Conflito resolvido:

The screenshot shows the same GitHub pull request interface, but now the conflict has been resolved. The title is "arquivo team #4". Below the title, it says "Resolving conflicts between feature/team-name-b and master and committing changes -> feature/team-name-b". There is a green button labeled "Commit merge". Below this, there is a table showing the resolved files. The table has two columns: "Conflicting file" and "team.txt". The "Conflicting file" column shows "team.txt" with a green checkmark. The "team.txt" column shows the resolved content: "1 Diego Alvarenga Rodrigues" and "2 João Pedro Ramos Faustino Pereira Marques". A green checkmark and the word "Resolved" are visible in the top right corner of the table.

O arquivo team.bt está dando conflito. Temos que decidir como o conteúdo dele deve ficar. Podemos deixar um nome na primeira linha e outro nome na segunda, o que acha?
